

Prohibited Actions in Remote Classes

The following actions can cause problems during remote classes.

Please be aware that these actions are subject punishment in accordance with the university rules.

Making discriminatory or slanderous remarks about other students or your instructor is prohibited.

Posting course-related information or content on social media and sharing it with friends (or sending it to them) are prohibited. [Sharing documents, videos, screenshots, comments by other students, etc.]

Avoid displaying content which could violate the privacy of others. [Be careful of the background when using your camera.]

Borrowing or lending user IDs is prohibited.

When taking remote classes, be mindful of your physical condition and pay attention to your mental health as well. For remote counseling, please use the student counseling room (https://www.meikai.ac.jp/news/post_181.html).